

Heinzmann von Silenen

Version dated: 2011.11.25

Author/Author: Bernard Truffer | Translation: Sergio Mantovani

* approx. 1380/90 , mentioned the last time on 12.6.1450 , by Visp. Donzello. Descended from a family. noble urana, of which a branch in the early fourteenth century, following the marriage of Konrad, son of Arnold ( ), with Aymonetta de Platea, had settled in Visp. The precise family ties are not known. He was castellan of Visp (1423, 1431 and 1443) and grand bailiff of Valais (1426-28, 1434 and 1439-41). In the affair of Raron (1415-20) he sided with the decanies against Witschard von Raron and in 1417 he was sent by the decany of Visp for the conclusion of the comboburghesia pact with the three forest countries.

Bibliographical references

Education

Links

Powered by Metagrid

Sources of Swiss law series

Information sheet

Biographical data      * approx. 1380/90 Last mentioned 12.6.1450

---

Classification

Politics / Society (1250-1800) / Allied Countries / Military (/it/search/category?f_hls.lexicofacet_string=3/000100.121100.122100.122600.)

---

Politics / Society (1250-1800) / Foreign policy / Envoys of the Confederation (/it/search/category?f_hls.lexicofacet_string=3/000100.121100.122900.123200.)

---

Quote suggestion

Bernard Truffer: "Silenen, Heinzmann von", in: Historical Dictionary of Switzerland (DSS), version of 2011.11.25 (translated from German). Online: <https://hls-dhs-dss.ch/it/articles/021449/2011-11-25/>, consulted on 02.04.2023.

The contents created on behalf of the Historical Dictionary of Switzerland (DSS) are subject to the Creative Commons license CC BY-SA. The rights to all other content, especially images, videos and sounds, belong to the specifically named rights holders. Abbreviations (/it/about/help/o3-archive-abbreviations) , information regarding links, use and mention of content (/it/about/usage) .